FIND NO CLEW IN KENTUCY SLAYING

(International News Service.)

MAYFIELD, Ky., June 28.—Forty eight hours investigation into the slaying and cremation of eleven persons in a farmhouse near Mayfield has failed to reveal any tangible clew.

With the theory that the murder of the two families was committed by Ernest Lawrence, who perished together with his family and that of Otis Drew, as the only one accepted was at all plausible the tragedy may remain an unsolved mystery. Even this theory was shak Dr. Hargrove, physician, for the Lawrence family, declared that if Lawrence had ever suffered from pains in his head, he had not made this known to his doctor.

"I believe it was the work of insane person inside of the hous who perished in the flames," th sheriff said, "the probabilities point to Ernest Lawrence, who said to have had spells of insan ity."

Mrs. John Drew, a spectator the fire, said today that she saw man run from the house into the yard and with a wild yell, run back into the flames. No other neighbors have reported witnessing this incident.

Several unconfirmed reports, with a possible bearing on the tragedy were in circulation. One was that an automobile was seen to turn from the lane, leading to the Lawrence home and disappear, rapidly down the main road, shortly after midnight, about the time the fire broke out. Another was that Drew was said to have been seen with $500 or $600 in his possession a few days ago.

This scale becomes effective July 1st and is 13c less our than the Cleveland scale.

MURDER TRIAL OF MRS. KABER STARTS TODAY

Venire of Sixty Men and Women Drawn for Jury Duty—Start Testimony Not Later Than Monday.

BY MILDRED MORRIS

COURT HOUSE, CLEVELAND, June 28.—Katherine Eva Kaber, charged with first degree murder, sat today with closed eyes and no trace of emotion as attorney for the state described her as a woman who had planned and directed the cold blooded slaying of her invalid husband.

A thin, dark sombre woman, she had slipped almost unnoticed into the defendants chair as "murder fans" breathless with curiosity waited her appearance.

A dark woman without a touch of color.

Only the white of the handkerchief which she held to her mouth relieved the somberness of her costume, a plain blue suit and hat.

Only once she opened her eyes during the morning proceedings—that was when the attorneys for the state asked the first venireman whether he objected to capital punishment and would send a woman to the electric chair as equitably as a man.

Six feet from her sat a little man with sad eyes who watched her constantly.

For nearly two years the aged father of Daniel K[illegible] had gathered the evidence which may weave a noose around the neck of his daughter-in-law now he sits in the courtroom, silent, waiting nemesis.

Edward Fawcett a foreman and married man, the first venireman examined, was excused after he stated that he had formed a fixed opinion.

The selection of a jury will be a slow one, to judge from results this morning.

Only one man was in the box when the court adjourned for noon recess.

Five other veniremen examined had been excused for cause—one because he is opposed to capital punishment.

The sublime porte has made a protest to the British against the bombardment of Ismid and also against infringement of the neutral zone. It is decalred that when the Turks entered Ismid the Greeks instead of retreating westward, retired in the direction of the city.

THREE ELYRIA YOUTHS UNEARTH TOT'S GRAVE OF PIONEER FAMILY

The grave of a nine months old baby, buried in 1833, was unearthed by Milton Dachtler, Victor Wiseman and Del Kaiser, while digging at 506 Lodi street.

The boys were digging a trench at the home of Fred Dachtler, Jr., of that address, when the tombstone was uncovered. The marker bore the name of Jason, one of the early settlers of Elyria, and was evidently erected about 15 years after the founding of Elyria. The tombstone was very finely lettered and decorated after the artistic fashion of that day. A search made for the body, but it thought that owing to length of time that the had rested in the ground it was probably entirely composed.

BIG BRITISH COAL STRIKE OFFICIALLY SETTLED TODAY

By International News Service

LONDON, June 28.—The national coal strike which had been in effect since April 1, was settled today. Official announcement to this effect was made following the second conference of the federation of miners and the colliery owners at the government board of trade office.

Premier Lloyd George announced in the house of commons this afternoon that an agreement had been reached between the strikers and the colliery owners and that the men would return to work at once. The news was received with cheers and there was the utmost rejoicing throughout the whole country.

It was learned later that Premier Lloyd George would ask parliament to sanction a renewal of the subsidy offer of ten million pounds sterling. This offer had been made previously on condition that the strike was settled within a certain length of time, but the time limit passed without a settlement. The subsidy was to be applied to the men's wages so that the wage reduction which the mine owners insist is necessary can be carried out gradually.

Frank Hodges, secretary of the federation of miners and other members of the executive committee, left London late today. They are going into the coal fields to explain the settlement terms to the miners and recommend their acceptance by the various locals.

Hodges said that some hostility was expected in South Wales and Scotland but he predicted that the

The settlement has the approval of the government.

JERSEY CITY, June 28.—Chancellor Declines To Act On Injunction Preventing Fight.

(International News Service.)

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 28.—The opening gun in the fight of the "reformers" to block the Dempsey Carpentier championship fight was fired here shortly before noon today, Robert Watson, president of the International reform bureau, accompanied by counsel and five local clergymen, sought an order directing Tex Rickard and other promoters of the fight to show cause why an injunction restraining the match should not be issued. They made their petition before Vice Chancellor Stevenson, in Chancery court. Attorney Clark Gilson acting as their legal spokesman.

Attorney Gilson based his plea for an injunction on four grounds, namely:

1. That the event is a prize fight and not a bout.

2. That the promoters "have caused counterfeit tickets to be circulated."

3. That thus they are engaged in "a gigantic swindling scheme."

4. That the event will attract pickpockets and gamblers to Jersey City and therefore will prove demoralizing to the youth of the community.

In an attempt to back up his charge that the fight promoters were responsible for the circulation of counterfeit tickets, Gilson charged directly that the public

DECISIVE VOTE CAST AGAINST ACCEPTING EIGHT CENTS AN HOUR CUT—AFFECTS 600,000 WORKERS OR ABOUT HALF OF ALL RAILROAD MEN—RAILROADS FAIL TO "GET TOGETHER" AS ADVISED BY U. S. RAILWAY WAGE BOARD.

By International News Service

CHICAGO, June 28.—With the vote of the railway shopmen overwhelmingly opposed to acceptance of a wage reduction of 85 to 77 cents an hour, as ordered by the U. S. railway labor board, railway circles became alarmed that the nation might be confronted with a serious railway crisis within a fortnight. The shop crafts employes voted 48,000 in favor of acceptance of the wage slash, with 385,000 opposed to it.

Unofficial report of the trend of the vote in the four railway brotherhoods indicated the wage slash, amounting generally to 12 per cent and effective July 1, was not popular and that the brotherhoods chiefs might be asked to call a strike. It is understood the brotherhood chiefs themselves are against a strike.

The vote of the shopmen actually affects about 600,000 railway workers or about half of those employed by all railway systems in the country. The remainder of the men, the clerks, switchmen, engineers, conductors and trainmen, have left final action regarding a strike to a committee of their officers, the various chairmen of the divisions. They will meet here next Friday to canvass the situation.

It is pointed out that if eventually should the railway workers get the committee to recommend acceptance of the cut, shop craft employes vote against scarcely can be ignored. The employes as a whole, have agreed to abide by a majority action, and tho shopmen represent half or more of the total railway men.

The result of the shopmen's vote was tabulated in the office of B. M. Jewell president of the railway employes division of the American federation of labor.

Would Avoid Strike

Labor officials are declared to be doing all they can to prevent a nation wide rail walkout. They fear the disastrous effect it would have on the country's already crippled economic life.

Financially it is pointed out, the railway men are scarcely in readiness for a strike. A strike benefit fund of some $20,000,000 has been accumulated during the past

DIRECTOR OF BUDGET ATTENDS CABINET MEET

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Chas. G. Dawes, director of the budget, went into the cabinet meeting today and told the president and his advisers that if they want a budget operating in the remarkably short space of 30 days they will have to give him latitude, and lots of it.

The efficient operating of a budget will be impossible in thirty days or thirty weeks, General Dawes informed them, unless the different departmental heads are willing to give them what amounts to a free hand in the pruning of estimates and the calculation of expenditures.

AMHERST STONE CUTTERS FIGHT THE OPEN SHOP

AMHERST, June 28.—(Staff Special)—"The fight between the stone cutters and the employers is one against the open shop rather than a fight for wages," asserted James Carter, veteran leader of the union stone cutters Tuesday.

Carter, always a staunch union man, has been affiliated as a union stone cutter for 45 years. "And I expect to die a union stone cutter and faithful to the craft," said Mr. Carter.

Carter's attitude is taken despite that his son, George Carter, is a foreman of the local stone cutters' union. "His action nearly killed me," said the elder Carter Tuesday when he held the sanctity of unionism is the most blessed thing that a worker enjoys.

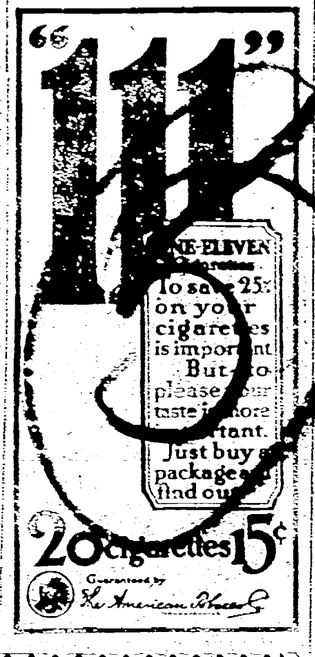

Mr. Carter said that nine union stone cutters have remained loyal and that thirteen of the former union men including the president and secretary have deserted the union ranks and returned to work under open conditions. The union cards of the thirteen men have been forfeited and the union reorganized with William Innis as president and Patrick McGarvey as secretary. The faithful union men say that the reorganized union is as staple as any organization of its kind in the world.

The trouble with the union stone cutters is at the three plants of the Ohio Cut Stone Co. The faithful union men charge infidelity and insincerity on the part of the employers. This, they say, is corborated by a wage agreed upon with the planners which was reduced from 80 to 70 cents an hour a week after the agreement was made; the former union men face a $100 fine each, said Mr. Carter.

MOTHER GIVES AWAY NEW BORN BABY GIRL

DEFIANCE, June 28—The story of a mother who gave away her new-born baby girl, under agreement that it shall never know its true parentage, has just been revealed here by the sister of the woman who made the sacrifice.

Mrs. William Doster is the mother. Her husband, having recently become totally blind through the effects of hot cinders having blown into his eyes while he was at work with a section gang on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, is in the Defiance county infirmary.

She has taken in family washings to support another daughter, Leona, ten years old. Believing that, in her poverty, she could not properly care for another child, and wishing to give it a good home, she answered the newspaper advertisement of Mrs. R. L. Holcom, 27, of Toledo. Plans were made before the child's birth, on December 1st day. Mrs. Holcom took the baby from its birthplace at the home of Mrs. Doster's sister, Mrs. Edward Stephey of this city, when it was only five days old.

In her desire to disassociate the infant entirely from its parentage and previous surroundings, Mrs. Holcom requested Dr. J. J. Reynolds to certify the baby as her own, according to the physician's story. When she found this procedure was impossible, she learned from the probate court that she might have temporary custody of the infant on probation for six months prior to formal adoption.

Mrs. Doster is employed as housekeeper in the home of William Foster, farmer, living ... miles from Defiance. She said she hoped to find employment here before fall so she can send Leona to school.

SANDUSKY, June 28.—The proposed new constitution, presented by Superintendent R. J. Keifer, of Bellefontaine, chairman of the reorganization committee, following the address of President Franklin P. The adoption of the draft, which, Geiger said, will tend further to democratic the association by placing governmental functions in the hands of the rank and file, is predicted. The opposition is coming from superintendents and principals classed "conservatives."

VIOLENT DISORDERS REPORTED IN ITALY

ROME, June 28—Violent disorders, in which five persons have been killed and ten wounded, have broken out, following the downfall of the Giolitti cabinet, said advices from that city today.

Before news of the resignation of the cabinet reached Fiume a mass meeting was held to protest against the policies of Count Sforza, the foreign minister. Speakers attacked the foreign minister, declaring he had given Italy the worst of the bargain in settling the Fiume troubles.

Arditti occupied Porto Baros, which belongs to Jugo Slavia. Carabinieri were sent to dislodge the Arditti forces.

KENTUCKY WOMAN INVITED TO TELL JAPANESE HOW SHE RAISES SUCH FINE JERSEYS

MRS HENNING AND TWO OF HER PRIZE WINNING JERSEYS

Little Brown People Want to Grow Taller and Stronger.

THE Japanese are not satisfied with being the "little men" of the world. They want to become taller and stronger. They have come to the heart of the Blue Grass Region of Old Kentucky and invited Mrs. Sue Thornton Henning of Shelbyville to teach them how. The Japanese believe that the way to accomplish this miracle is by drinking more milk. This, their investigation leads them to believe, will make the race become hardier. They want Mrs. Henning to lecture them on how to produce the best Jersey cattle in the world.

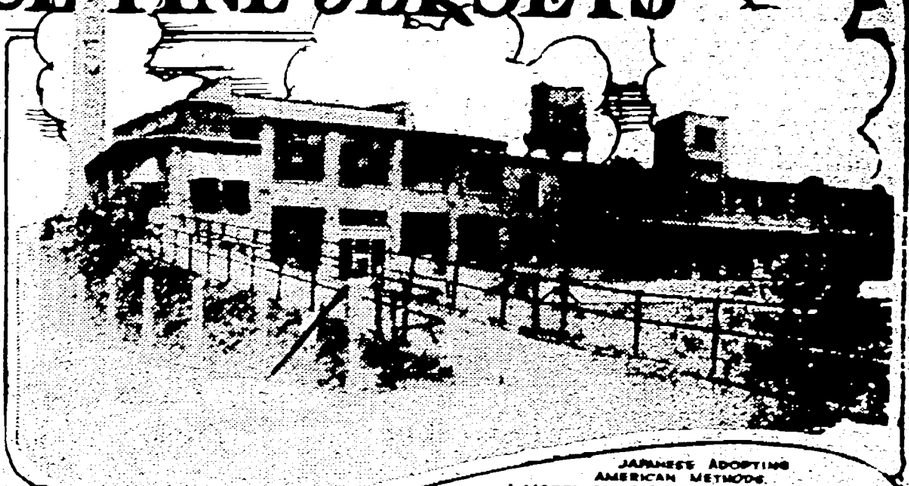

The offer was made by a personal representative of the Emperor of Japan, Issa Tanimura, a graduate of Yale University, and an Honorary Fellow of Agriculture of Cornell University, who recently visited Allendale farms, the broad estate owned and operated by Mrs. Henning in Shelby County, which is considered a model in the field of modern dairying and Jersey breeding. Mrs. Henning has long been recognized as the most successful woman producer of prize Jerseys in America. The Emissary took back with him to Japan a world of information concerning Jersey cows and their milk, and a motion picture film showing how Jerseys are raised on Allendale farms. Milk is scarce in Japan and the Japanese are importing condensed milk, and Issa Tanimura was delegated by the Emperor to visit America and study the milk production of this country. The Ruler plans to make extensive importations of Jersey milch cows into the Isle of Flowers, according to the information received by Mrs. Henning.

Mrs. Henning met the Japanese Emissary in New York some months ago. She invited him to visit her farm, a model one in the "Jersey Island of America," as the region of Shelby County is known.

After he had witnessed the work Mrs. Henning has accomplished in the raising of fine Jerseys on Allendale, he requested the privilege of extending the invitation of his Emperor. Mrs. Henning was asked to deliver a series of lectures to Japanese women on dairy interests. They want to know the practical side of breeding and raising the best milch cows for practical purposes.

The Japanese are also taking great interest in the production of condensed milk and are adopting American methods. The condensed milk yield has increased from 2,113,290 kin in 1912 to 10,521,043 kin in 1920, the production of ten million kin being equivalent to 257,000 boxes.

That the Japanese have a scientific basis for their belief that milk will promote growth is substantiated by scientists who point out that the existence in milk of growth-promoting proteins of great importance to children has been fully established by investigations on the chemistry of proteins and by nutrition studies that have been carried on in recent years. Milk has been found to contain a large portion of different proteins which are the flesh-growing materials of the body and an indispensible part of all the vital body fluids.

Japanese Wise to Encourage Dairying, Says President of Largest Milk Distributors.

Mr. A. W. Milburn, president of the Borden Co., biggest milk distributors in the World, thinks well of Japan's interest in dairying, for when told of what Mrs. Henning is doing, he said:

In this country the products of the dairy have constituted about one-fifth of our national food and their consumption has been a great contribution to the national health. The dairy is essential to the well-being of the country, not only as an aid to agriculture—for it enriches the soil and makes possible the continuance of intensive farming—but in providing food elements that are necessary to growth and strength in the proportions that nature demands. During the war when the production of milk became a matter of national concern, those who had hitherto taken for granted a gradual increase in the milk output of the country were amazed that the per capita production showed no gain since 1900, and actually threatened a decline.

Our nation can well emulate the interest of Japan in stimulating dairies. The idea is economically sound. The milch cow returns in milk a higher percentage of nutriment to offset the food value of what she consumes than does the steer in beef. Milk is a cheaper food than meat, which is not abundant in many Oriental countries, and it supplements certain deficiencies in the grains which form the principal diet of many Oriental peoples and whose exclusive, or almost exclusive, use has been held responsible for many diseases based on inadequate nutrition. It is generally held that milk is a more useful food than any other for the prevention and cure of pellagra, and it is known that in time of famine people inadequately fed on grains quickly succumb to disease.

The experience of mankind in all ages has confirmed the belief that milk is the most adequate in all elements required for growth, and health of any natural food. This belief is confirmed by the investigations during the past decade of foremost chemists and biologists who have established the fact of the existence in milk of certain vitamines that are essential to life and long-continued growth. Some of these elements are peculiar to milk and are produced in the udders of the cow by biological processes that are not well understood—at least the chemist has not been able to rival nature in producing them. Artificial diets, almost exactly like the milk diets, in respect to the proportion and kind of the nutrients have proved entirely inadequate as food in experiments made at the nutrition stations. Professor McCollum of Johns Hopkins and others have emphasized the definite value of the fat soluble vitamine of milk in promoting growth. In fact milk has been found to contain a larger number of different proteins which are the flesh growing materials of the body and an indispensible part of all body fluids. Milk is the cheapest when its food value is considered of all animal foods originating on the farm.

The Japanese people are justified in their belief that the encouragement of dairies will benefit the health and strength of the people.

Cabinet Members To Attend Fight

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Official Washington is going to be heavily represented unofficially—when Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier clamber through the ropes at Jersey City next Saturday, it appeared today. At least one and probably several members of the cabinet are going to be at the ringside and the house and senate will have a quorum scattered throughout Tex Rickard's big arena.

One congressman alone has a block of fifty seats in A and B sections and will take a party of 49 guests to the battle on a special car leaving Washington early Saturday morning. Several other congressmen have smaller parties arranged and from indications today it appeared that the Hill is not going to do much functioning on Saturday. Many members have "engagements" out of town over the week end and will leave Friday night. Saturday afternoon found them not far away from Boyle's thirty acres.

Most of those going are not advertising their good fortune. Of course, its legal and all that, and "this is a free country, but you know how it is" there are constituents who don't look at it in a "broad minded way" and, well, "what's the use of inviting trouble?"

It is probable too that many of the foreign embassies and legations will be represented at the ringside on Saturday. They've got no constituents and they don't care who knows they're going.

President Harding will be in Jersey on Saturday as the guest of Senator Frelinghuysen at his home but will not go near Jersey City, so far as is known.

But Washington is going to be a dead place next Saturday. That much is certain.

A Celebrated London Doctor Used the Above to Emphasize the Danger of Overeating. Worse Than Overeating is Failure to Eliminate Waste.

Nature could not devise a way to feed and repair the body without the production of considerable waste matter. But we are provided for the regular, through elimination of such waste. To disregard nature's intention is to break a natural law.

Whether you help Nature by wise or foolish means is left to your own judgment. To simply force bowel movement is unwise, unnatural and ineffective. You can choose harsh, drastic, violently acting drugs or take such without caring what their action or effect is, or you can select some old time-proven, trial-tested remedy, that has been used for 70 years or more by thousands of people all over the world with the result that it has won an enviable reputation as a reliable household remedy. Take Beecham's for example. All the world knows Beecham's and goodly part of the credit for Beecham's has been won by it for years, handing its use down from father to son, from mother to daughter, for generation after generation, recommending it to others. In spite of such extensive and general use, who ever heard a complaint or criticism of Beecham's? That in itself is a powerful recommendation.

Don't take anything for granted. Reason it out. All druggists sell Beecham's—are glad to sell them.

Beecham's reputation has been made by its users not by its sellers.

As is her wont when angered or annoyed at Dicky, she had managed to convey the idea that his ideas and ideals had been palpably lowered since his marriage to me, and that I was the cause of his deterioration.

Dicky grinned ruefully at her retreating back.

"Rent it? No!"

"You Pernicious Influence!" he murmured to me with mock reproach, tweaking my ear in passing to follow his mother into the next room. And, of course, with the assurance that my husband was on my side instead of his mother's in the age-old contest, I promptly forgot all rancor toward her; indeed, I obliterated the little sting from my memory.

We found her standing in the doorway between the big, old-fashioned, double parlors—the second visit she had paid the spot—gazing speculatively at the carved woodwork.

"If this were thrown into one big room," she said, as if to herself.

I caught her up eagerly.

"Wouldn't it make a wonderful living room!" I exclaimed.

She gave me a stare that made me uncomfortable by something elusive in it which I could not understand.

"I thought you said there was nothing for sale or rent in the place," she said incisively. "What was the matter with this? Too much trouble to fix it up?"

I could hardly believe my ears. Had she really capitulated so quickly?

"Why! —I—" my voice was nothing but an embarrassed stammer. Dicky came to my rescue dauntingly.

Madge never thought you would consider it for a moment, mother, dear," he said. "Besides I don't believe anybody knew it was for sale before Mrs. Tracy spoke of it. Do you really mean you think we'd better try to rent it?"

Rent it? No!" his mother snapped. "You'd have to spend the money to fix it up, anyway, and it's a valuable investment. Everybody who can ought to have a small farm in the background."

"And you approve of our buying it?" Dicky asked immediately.

"Yes decidedly, but not of the method you two have taken to make me approve," his mother returned with sternness in her face, but the glint of ... tropical smile in her eyes. At liberty 30 minutes they were recognized, recaptured and placed in the woman's department of the county jail, near where Andrew Surgent charged with slaying Mrs John Burkhart and daughter Lillian, is confined. As Surgent is being held incommunicado he seemed to welcome the visit of the youngsters and showed signs of regret when they were returned to another cell.

LITTLE TALKS ON THRIFT

by S. W. STRAUS, President American Society for Thrift.

An official of a large surety company recently stated at a public gathering that the man who practices thrift is considered the best risk of all by indemnity companies. In other words, the man who saves is more reliable and dependable and is less apt to go wrong than he who is improvident.

If the man who practices thrift is the best risk for a surety company it is an indication that thrift is the most important element of all in the formation of a substantial character. It is not that money itself laid away or invested makes a man honest, but it is because the process of saving; the steady resistance of impulses to squander; the clear thinking and firm submission to self discipline engender moral stamina and strength of will.

One reason why more people do not practice thrift is that they do not appreciate the solidifying effect it has on one's character. They do not realize that the benefits of thrift to the individual are beyond calculation. This benefit is the difference between strength and weakness, between success and failure; between virtue and vice.

Those who do not practice thrift, therefore, are not only losing the financial values of these habits and the insurance against the possible sufferings of penury in the years of old age or adversity, but they are holding themselves backward along every avenue of worthy development. They are voluntarily tying mill - stones about their necks.

Surety companies prefer risks on thrifty men and women, not because these individuals may be fundamentally more honest than their thriftless associates, but because the processes of extravagance and self-indulgence are destructive. The individual may be the soul of integrity, but his imprudent habits keep him continually pulling upstream. And at any time he may weaken and be swept along to his ruin by the torrents of dishonesty and vice.

The man who practices thrift has everything in his favor. There are forces at work in his behalf, the potency of which he often does not realize.

If surety companies prefer thrifty men and women it means that the first duty of each man to himself is to practice this virtue.

CHAMBER SURVEY DISCLOSES IMPROVEMENT OF CONDITIONS

The semi-monthly survey of the Chamber of Commerce disclosed a general improvement of conditions. The report:

	Last Period	This Period	Increase	Decrease
Bank Clearings	$634,061.90	$715,497.30	$81,435.40
Freight Tonnage	1941	1490		451
Dry Goods	50%	50%
Men's Wear	65	65
Groceries	68	68
Furniture	70	70
Hardware	78.9	78.9
Building Supplies	68	65		3%
Building Permits	$25,950.00	$12,535.00		$13,415.00
Automobiles	265	133		132
Fire Losses	None	$210.00	$210.00

Employment—The employment situation has varied in some of the different plants, but the general average remains about the same.

Note—Cost of living in different lines figured by letting 100% equal peak price covering a period for the last two years.

Period represents, with few exceptions, two weeks.

The 40% increase in freight rates should be considered in the building supply item. Automobile figures show licenses issued.

Real Estate

Real estate transfers for this period were 23 which is fifteen less than a year ago and eighteen less than the preceding period. There is no noticeable change in conditions since last period.

Board of Health

Contagious diseases in Elyria are on the wane. The Board of Health report for the period the following communicable diseases:

Chicken pox 2; Mumps 1; Measles 2; Scarlet Fever 1.

FARM REVIEW

Recent favorable weather conditions has been very helpful to all farm corps more particularly the oats crop and wheat crop. Hay making is here but promises to be only about one-half crop. Wheat crop promises to be around 60% normal. Oats and corn in good condition and bid fair to make an average crop.

Recent rains came too late for strawberries, lack of which cut the crop in half. The early potato crop is looking good, somewhat larger than normal late crop being planted.

Harvesting this season a week to ten days earlier than usual. There is plenty of labor to take care of farm crops this season.

Prices received by farmers for farm products not in proportion to what they are requested to pay for supplies.

City Hall

The past two weeks has seen the going into effect of the new Dance Hall Ordinance, recently passed by the Council, which provides for the inspection of all public dances by an inspector appointed by the Mayor. Permits are also required for the giving of the dances and in the future the control of public dances will be much more strict than heretofore.

On June 14th, Director Beck opened bids for the construction of the Filter Plant, Head House and Pump Station and for Filter Plant Equipment in connection with the new Water Works Improvement, and while the bids received have not as yet been tabulated, an encouraging feature was the number of bidders present and it was noticed that there was a marked tendency for lower prices for this class of work.

BELLAIRE—Auto prices have dropped here. A runabout sold at constable's sale for $81.

WHEELING, W. Va.—All trains passing through the Baltimore & Ohio trainshed hesitated to say the least. A young girl sitting on a bench awaiting the arrival of one of the rattlers had a bouquet of flowers painted or tattooed just below her knee, say lovers of flowers who were in the vicinity.

Sisterville, W. Va.—A 20 per cent reduction in wages, effective at once has been announced here by the Sisterville Tank and Boiler Works.

DEFIANCE—Committee to select names for the jury wheel, preliminary to drawing jurors for the October term of court, have been instructed by Judge Fred L. Hay to place the names of a number of women in the list. Practice of the gentle arts which win the favor of the ladies is said to have started among local attorneys.

MARTINS FERRY—A local bootlegger is reported to have made $2,100 in seven weeks. He has his headquarters along the Ohio river shore.

Under the "Endowment of Motherhood" law which has just come into effect in France, every third child that makes its appearance in a French family will be greeted with a bonus of francs, and an increasing sum will be forthcoming for each of his successors, culminating in a handsome reward of 750 francs to the mother who bears a tenth child.

A novel display took place at the recent marriage in London of a society belle and a captain in the royal navy. As the couple left the church after the ceremony they passed down an avenue of swords held by the bridegroom's brother officers. On the lawn in front of the church had been placed a model of an old-time wooden battleship, from which, as the bridal couple stepped into their motor car, was fired a salute from miniature guns.

In the early days of the industry there was a violent prejudice against using coal in many quarters. Even Queen Elizabeth, so broad-minded in many things, could not get rid of the idea that coal was bad for the health of the country, and whenever the country gentlemen came up to London for the sittings of parliament no one in the city was permitted ... light a coal fire.

DEFIANCE—A colossal project, managed by American genius, has been launched, designed to modernize the Orient. American firms have been granted concessions for twenty years and wil supply China with manufactured goods. While complete information on the method of financing the project is lacking here today, it is understood that the Chinese government will float a $10,000,000 bond issue in this country within a short time.

ST. CLAIRSILLE—Milk is selling as low as 11 cents a gallon near Baltimore. Mrs. Phillip Johnson, former local resident and wife of a former Bethany college professor, who now runs a dairy farm at Rising Sun, Md., said that price is being paid by a condensary for all milk in excess of a certain quantity allotted to each farm.

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—A copy paper, published in Coal River, Boone county, a hamlet in the mountains of this state, received here carries a story announcing the election of Governor E. F. Morgan that the republicans had swept the country and that the democrats admitted defeat. The paper bore the date of June 9, 1921.

The Galion federation, which recently has been revived after a long season of inactivity, plans again to take its old place on the calendar of social events and this fall expects to become a conspicuous factor in central Ohio club work.

was to be the victim of a big swindle, that the fight promoters had "aided in causing counterfeit tickets to be prepared and released for distribution too far in advance."

About 1 o'clock, John Milton, corporation counsel of Jersey City, arrived in the court room as representatives of Tex Rickard to combat the injunction motion.

Gilson announced his readiness to prove that the match was meant to be an out and out prize fight, in violation of the state boxing law. He said he could introduce tow affidavits to the effect that both fightters are bent upon a knockout. Osborne Cisese, Jr., of New York and William Hughes of White Plains, both members of the international reform bureau had made visits to the Dempsey and Carpentier camp yesterday. Gilson said and had obtained "knockout" assurances from both fighters.

As Vice-Chancellor Stevens was leaving for lunch with the announcement that he would take up the motion at 2 o'clock, Attorney Gilson hurried up to him and started to talk about the motion.

"I can't hear it now," said the vice chancellor. "On what ground do you ask and in whose behalf do you appear?"

"In behalf of the international reform bureau and the Jersey City clergymen's community," said Gilson.

"[Do you] charge that a crime is [to] be committed?" asked Stevenson.

"Yes," answered Gilson.

"The contestants have admitted they are going to fight to win."

Friends Honor Departing Professor

A large gathering of friends of Prof. Robert L. Rankin, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Rankin, Earl court, gathered last night in the parlors of the Methodist Episcopal church. Professor Rankin has accepted a position in Lucknow Christian College, Lucknow, India, for which place he and his family will sail soon.

Professor Rankin is to be Professor of History in that college which is second to none in India. The parents of Mrs. Rankin are missionaries in India so that it is a return home for Mrs. Rankin.

There were about one hundred and fifty present. Mr. George Chamberlain delivered the main address commending Prof. and Mrs. Rankin for taking up a life of sercive of belittling the distance which will separate them from their loved ones in this country, and expressing appreciation of the opportunity given to the church through Prof. and Mrs. Rankin. Dr. Wm. B. Winters was master of ceremonies and introduced the various speakers. Over seventy-five dainty envelopes were showered upon Prof. and Mrs. Rankin, each containing a crisp dollar bill. Professor and Mrs. Rankin feelingly responded and expressed their appreciation of the kindness that had been shown them. Mrs. Marjorie Killoran played a violin solo and Mrs. Killoran, Mrs. Townsend and Mrs. Simpson together entertained with several selections.

Social Tribute Paid to Matron

Very informal and delightfully social was the reception tendered Mrs. Clara Willard, matron of the Y. W. C. A. who leaves the local association, Friday of this week.

Mrs. Willard started to receive her guests at eight o'clock and was kept busy the rest of the evening, for she is a much loved and very popular woman in this community.

The guests comprised mostly the girls of the Y. W. C. A. who are, some of them, as closely associated to her as they are to their mothers, for she is a mother to all.

Several members of the board of the Y. W. were present and quite a number of friends. The rooms of the "Y" had been charmingly decorated to suit the occasion with numerous bowls of sweet-peas, and roses.

Delicious refreshments were served later under the supervision of Mrs. John Faxon, chairman of the entertainment committee of the "Y" and as the evening was hot, all retired to the porch and grounds and a jolly time ensued.

Mrs. Willard is such a fixture at the home of the local association, that the "Y" with out her can hardly be imagined. She has been a loyal and interested worker ever since its first few birthdays and has made friends with all who in any way associated with her. It is with much regret that her departure is felt by the girls, and all expressed the best of wishes and extended their thanks, for the dear friend she had been to them.

A STRING OF TINS FOR AN ANNIVERSARY GIFT

Very unique and of a different strain was the observance of the tenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Smith of 616 East avenue.

In honoring this occasion, the employees of the Harry H. Smith Co. purchased a complete set of tinware and proceeded to tie each utensil to some part of a long rope. When they were through they had a string of tins of considerable length, which they sent up to the home of the happily wedded couple. This was received with great surprise for although Mr. and Mrs. Smith observe their wedding anniversaries they only do so in a very quiet way and they did not at first realize that the shower of tinware was in honor of their tenth anniversary. This gift or gifts, however, caused much amusement and afforded pleasure to all concerned.

CHURCH PLAY TONIGHT

Members of the cast of the play the "Spell of the Image," which will be given in the Gates School Auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock, enjoyed a picnic supper together last night in the basement of the First Congregational church before practicing in dress rehearsal.

The prologue of the play takes place in Revolutionary times and pretty and attractive costumes have been secured. The rest of the play is of the present day. The music for the prologue will be furnished by Rev. J. H. Grant. In addition some special music will be rendered by Miss Rena Radachy.

It has been thought by some that the play would be given in the Gates room of the First Congregational church. This was the original intention but as the stage and auditorium are both larger and will better suit the needs of the play and the audience the Gates school will be the place of the entertainment.

CHURCH OF CHRIST TO TRY PICTURE MACHINE

Some 5000 churches in the United States and Canada have already installed moving picture machines. They are used for various purposes and with varying degrees of satisfaction. The Church of Christ is aware of the great possibilities of such pictures and has been considering the desirability of installing a moving picture machine. There will be a demonstration in the church tomorrow evening at 7:45. Two reels will be shown, "The Good Samaritan," with Twentieth Century application and "The Castaway" a Bruce scenic.

It is expected that a large majority of the church will be present to witness the effect of such work in the church. There will also be some interesting reports to read which will be followed by a social hour and refreshments.

SERENADERS POPULAR

Again the moonlight serenaders chose Thirteenth street upon which to lavish their sweet strains. About nine o'clock a machine filled with musicians with Harry Stacey at the wheel, wended their way, leisurely playing several popular melodies, that floated to the enthusiastic audiences all along the street.

Walter Roe and his trusty Hawaiian guitar occupied a goodly portion of the back seat, and Stevens played the fiddle with a gusto that was surprising for the hot weather.

The musicians then began to sing, and the response from those seated on their porches became incessant. They certainly are very excellent players and those who have been so honored are looking forward to repetition with much pleasure.

FIVE HUNDRED CLUB MEETS

Members of the Five Hundred Club filled four tables yesterday afternoon when they were entertained in a regular meeting at the home of Mrs. G. W. Baker of Harrison street. A social hour was enjoyed following the playing and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

GARDEN HINTS

CUCUMBERS

The soil for cucumbers should be rich, and it is a good plan to apply well-rotted manure under the rows or hills. If planted in rows, open the furrow and scatter the manure along the furrow, turning fresh soil over the manure before planting the seeds. If the seeds are planted in hills, confine the application of manure to the area occupied by the hills.

As cucumbers are easily injured by cold, it is not advisable to plant until all danger of frost is over and the ground has begun to warm up. For very early cucumbers the seeds should be planted in a hotbed in old trawberry boxes or plant bands or directly in the soil of the bed. By starting the plants in hotbeds the cucumbers will be ready for the table two or three weeks earlier than if started in the open. For the main crop, drill the seed in rows 5 feet apart, and after the plants reach a height of 3 to 4 in. thin them to stand 12 to 18 inches apart in the row, or plant the seeds in hills 4 feet apart each way and thin to two or three plants to the hill.

Cucumbers should be given frequent shallow cultivation until the vines fill most of the space between the rows; after this very little attention will be needed, except to pull out any weeds by hand. Do not allow any fruit to ripen on the vines until the end of the picking season, as new fruit will not form while older ones are ripening.

Young cucumber plants are often destroyed by the cucumber beetle. It is possible to protect the plants by covering them with small wooden frames over which mosquito netting has been stretched.

The City and Suburban Vegetable Garden

Air-slaked lime sprinkled over the small plants is an added protection against the cucumber beetle.

Varieties recommended: White Spine, Davis Perfect, and Emerald.

Eggplant

The plants for this crop should be started in a hotbed or in a box in the house about two months before time for planting in the garden. The plants should not be set in the field until after all danger of frost has passed and the ground has become quite warm. Set the plants 18 to 24 inches apart in rows 3 feet apart, and give clean, shallow cultivation to keep the plants growing rapidly.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Eastport, Maine, the "farthest east" town in the United States, has just elected its first woman school superintendent.

Women were elected to fill every office in the South Florida Press Association at a recent meeting of that organization.

A Boston young woman who kept count found she had bought 2241 soda tickets last year, or an average of more than six a day.

Miss Marguerite Sherar, of Topeka, has gone through school and college, sixteen years in all, without an absent or tardy mark in her record.

Mme. Nazimova, who for several years has confined her work to the film drama, is reported to be contemplating her return to the speaking stage in a play in which all the characters are women.

One of the strangest of marriage customs is that observed by some of the women of Assam. There the bride sometimes takes the initiative. She goes to fetch the bridegroom, and it is etiquette for him to hide and resist until carried off. Women of means are allowed to choose a temporary husband, and when tired of him, pay him off and take another.

A spirited controversy over the stockingless woman has been agitating the Parisian press. One afternoon recently hundreds of stockingless women went to the races at Longchamps. The thermometer went down with a rush, and the women fled home for furs and stockings.

A spirited controversy has recently been carried on in the London press in regards to the inventor of the paper pattern. For many years the credit for this invention has been given to Mrs. John Ellis, of Manchester, England, who is still living at the age of 96 years.

The claims of Mrs. Miller have been disputed by Maude E. Miller in behalf of her father who began the business of publishing the patterns in London in 1866, which was close to the time when Mrs. Ellis entered the field. The controversy has led to an an investigation which establishes that neither Mrs. Ellis nor Mr. Miller made the first paper pattern, but that the credit for the invention belongs to an American, Ebenezer Butterick, who cut the first paper patterns June 16, 1863, or several years before their first appearance in England.

Women goldsmiths are few and far between, but in Miss Winifred Whiteside, a girl not yet 20, London, possesses a craftswoman in gold, silver, and jewels, whose work is of such beauty that she has been admitted as the youngest Associate to the Royal Society of Miniature Painters.

In acknowledgement of her work in the study of stellar spectra, Miss Annie J. Cannon of the Harvard Astronomical Observatory has received from Groningen University in Holland an honorary doctor's degree in mathematics and astronomy. She is believed to be one of the first American women to receive such a distinction from a European university for scientific work. Miss Cannon has long been regarded as a leading American woman astronomer. She has been associated with the Harvard Observatory for nearly twenty-five years and during this time she has completed a monumental catalogue of the spectra of some 220,000 stars all over the heavens. When published this catalogue will occupy nine quarto volumes. No such comprehensive study has ever been made before.

Lady Byng, wife of the new Governor-General of Canada, is a talented writer and has published several books.

The "queen of women mountaineers" is Mrs. Fanny Bullock-Workman, the most intrepid woman climber in the world has so far known, who with her husband has conquered many of the most difficult Himalayan peaks, beating one world's record after another.

The first Burman woman to secure a college training was Dr. Ma Saw Sa, who is now head of the Lady Dufferin Maternity Hospital in Rangoon.

Housewives are becoming less wasteful, judging from the reports of numerous cities which show that garbage collections have fallen off from 10 to 25 perc ent since the war.

Queen Alexandra, it is said, has kept a diary for nearly half a century. Her little books are each nine inches long by four wide, and bound in satin which is painted with flowers.

Lorain Damage Case Occupies the Court

The case of Edward Dechant, of Lorain, against Vincent McHenry, also of Lorain, was called for trial before a jury this morning. The jury was there and Judge Thompson was there, together with a number of witnesses. Then the parties began to dicker for a settlement without trial, and the entire morning was taken up.

Dechant had his left leg broken and was otherwise injured in November, 1919. He was engaged in putting chains on the wheels of his automobile, and claims that McHenry came along and carelessly ran over his leg while he was prostrate at the side of the road adjusting the chains. He has sued for $25-000 damages.

TAD'S TID-BITS

Written for the I. N. S.

NEW YORK, June 28—Jim Corbett is one of those gentlemen who thinks that things can happen. Corbett is quite a knowing person as far as things pugilistic are concerned. He has seen many a spread turn into a burst. He has seen many a highly respected gent one day be a laughing stock the next.

"I want to tell you," he said the other day at Bay Side, his home, "a lawyer could take either side in this fight question and make you bet your life on it. Give him the dope on both men, I mean, and let him talk to a man who knows nothing of the boxing game.

"If he'd take the Dempsey end he'd say the Frenchman is too small. He'd say also that if Carpentier could not lick such men as Dixie Kid, Frank Klaus and Billy Papke he never was a master at his game. He could show that Carpentier had 'resigned' in some of his bouts. He would show that he had been knocked out in others. He could also show that the only two men Carpentier beat that amounted to anything were Wells and Beckett. He could prove that these men were only second rate boxers. He would tell his man that Dempsey is a giant, a terrific hitter and a bull dog in the ring.

"Now let this same lawyer take the Carpentier end. He will tell his man that no fighter that ever lived can take a right punch square on the chin and stand up under it. That is, from a man weighing 170 pounds who has proved he can hit. He will tell his man that Dempsey has been hit and can be hit. He will tell him also that all boxers fight bad fights. He will tell him that Dempsey fought Willie Meehan five times and lost twice, although Meehan was much shorter and lighter. He will tell his man that when Dempsey fails to kill off an oponent in a round or two he retires. He will tell his man that in the last fight with Meehan, Dempsey put his man to the floor in the second round and that Meehan got up and in the fourth had Dempsey on the ropes with his arms at his sides dead to the world at the bell. He will tell his man that Tom Gibbons recently knocked this same Meehan out in one round. Then he will ask his man if he considers Dempsey to be the mankiller he is supposed to be.

"He will tell his man that Dempsey also tired in the Willard fight. Dempsey had Willard down seven times in the first round and they fought two rounds more and Dempsey did not even stagger Willard once in the two rounds. He will tell his man that Willard staggered Dempsey just before the bell in the third round, proving that Dempsey is a one round fighter.

"He will tell his man that Dempsey does not know how to relax and that sparring partners have hit Jack on the chin repeatedly in their workouts at Airport and elsewhere. He will ask his man if he does not think Carpentier will land at least once.

"You see you can figure this fight more ways than one. I'm not betting on it, but if I was a betting man I think I'd ponder a long while before offering three to one."

TAGGING THE BASES

(International News Service.)

Homers by Parkinson, Rawlings, Williams and Lebourveau, who got two, turned the tide against the Giants at Philadelphia. Kelly and Smith of New York also got home runs.

Johnny Morrison, rookie pitcher, made his first start in the box for Pittsburgh against the Cubs and turned in a victory.

Duster Mails fanned Sisler twice in pinches, thereby greatly aiding the Indians to defeat the Browns.

Leibold made a toss from center to the plate to complete a double play that helped the Red Sox trim the Athletics.

A fist fight between Otto Miller and Tony Boeckel helped to enliven the Dodger-Brave contest which was won by Burleigh Grimes.

The Reds ended a long losing streak at St. Louis, Daubert hit a homer with two on.

There are said to be nearly 20,000 known medicinal remedies.

HARRY DAVIS GAVE LORAIN TALK TUESDAY

Huge Parade Featured State Spanish War Vet's Convention Monday — Business Session Today.

LORAIN, June 28—Filing of annual reports in the morning, a parade in the afternoon and the annual military ball in the evening, marked the first day of the United Spanish War Veterans' twenty-second annual encampment.

Following the formal opening of the encampment Monday morning by A. F. Rupnow of Cleveland, commander of the department of Ohio, Mayor William F. Grall welcomed the delegates. Responses were made by Major Cramer, after whom Cleveland's camp No. 6, was named, and Mrs. Edith Baird of Cincinnati, president of the Women's auxiliary.

Laxity in submitting monthly reports of memberships in connection with the veteran's state recruiting drive was criticized by Grant S. Taylor, chief of staff, in his annual report.

Department Adjutant Carroll reported there are 3,817 members of the United Spanish War Veterans' organization in good standing. This number, Carroll said, represents a gain of 1,623 in the past year. Wholehearted support of the soldiers' and sailors' orphans' home at Xenia, O., was urged by State Commander Repnow.

Among the recommendations made by Repnow and which will be acted upon later are:

That new instruments be furnished the Xenia orphans' band; that the Knutzen bill, providing for relief of widows and orphans of veterans, be supported; that men of ability who have served their country in war times be supported when seeking public offices.

Among the speakers at this morning's business session was Col. Carmi A. Thompson of Cleveland, formerly of the Seventh Ohio volunteer infantry. Thompson urged the veterans not to minimize the importance of its comparative insignificance in the amount of money and men involved as compared with the World War.

"It is the results which you achieved that should be considered," Thompson declared. "The war with Spain was the dawn of America's day as a world power."

Today's program includes the second business session and an address by Gov. Harry L. Davis, which follows:

"American history can properly be divided into four principal eras, each representative of a crucial period out of which the nation has arisen and been strengthened and fortified for its mission of world leadership toward a higher conception of freedom, justice and humanity.

"There are no longer living representatives of the first period in American development, dating from the founding of the Republic. But we in this day are fortunate that there are in our midst men who had the most vital part in serving the nation in the later three periods and in perpetuating and solidifying the principles and institutions underlying it.

"In the Grand Army of the Republic, there are banded together the brave old men who fought and shed their blood that America might be preserved for us and for our children. They are growing fewer in number, year by year—these men many of them bent with age bt still courageous of heart, reflecting the valor and patriotism of the period which preserved the Union.

"You men and women are representative of the next great crisis through which the nation passed, and from which, by your aid, it emerged a people more firmly cemented in the principles of liberty, of humanity and re-dedication to an ever wider application of them.

"Then, as marking the most recent period of our history, when we again fought to defend those principles, we have the American Legion representative of the struggle for international salvation—a splendid bulwark of modern Americanism.

"These are the three great American epochs for the achievements of which the nation must always be indebted to those who shouldered arms in America's need.

"You represent directly one of these great periods in the nation's history. It is your deeds that helped to shape the course of its destiny and brought a higher realization in the world of the ideals to which America subscribes.

"It is a great privilege and honor to have been instrumental in the work of that great period and to be a member of an organization so inseparably identified with it as the United Spanish War Veterans.

"The motto of your organization reaches the broad principle of Americanism. It is love of freedom; with a patriotic zeal to fight for it and for humanity which makes our Nation. In this time of world unrest when the precedents of centuries are departed from, it is well to remember the institutions and the aspirations that have made our country a refuge for the oppressed and a land of opportunity. There have been many covenants in the history of the world, but none with greater blessings to the people than the Constitution laid down by our forefathers as the fundamental law of this land. Your organization believes in that Constitution; your members have subscribed allegiance to it and would again fight in its protection.

"The soldiers who marched out in 1898 at the call of their country in our war with Spain, have always received my greatest admiration. There was just as much self sacrifice, just as great an element of personal bravery in the volunteer army of '98 as any other body of men that have fought on the field of honor to uphold the glory of a country. The years slip by so quickly and the stage changes so rapidly that in the stress of modern-day life, we are liable to forget the stirring times of that period. The man-power of this Nation rose with wonderful unanimity and splendid purpose in the war with Spain. The patriotism of this country never burned more brightly than it did in those days, when Dewey was at Manila, Roosevelt and Wood at San Juan Hill. Let us also remember that the soldiers of the Spanish-American war represented the largest volunteer army in the history of our nation. Every man had within his heart the same spirit [illegible] ated the patriots of the Revolution of 1812, of the Rebellion and of the late World war. They represented the same high type of American citizenship [illegible] leave the place of business and the home to enter into the military service of their country.

"It is impossible to calculate, or, in a manner, to comprehend the great influence which any of these organizations have had upon the life of our Nation. Wherever a member of these patriotic orders lives and labors, there is more of patriotism and a higher standard of Americanism. It is a great satisfaction to the chief executive of this state to know that in all the turmoil and change of the present day, there are in the land these organizations whose members dedicated their lives to their country in the time of war and who now dedicate themselves to the general welfare of the nation in times of peace. I know that the many questions which are constantly coming before us will receive the same earnest and unselfish consideration of the veterans of the Spanish war that they have given in the past to like problems which our Nation has been compelled to meet.

"One must naturally be impressed with the many Americans whose names and memories are inseparably united with our Nation. To think of that epoch in our life which brought your organization into being, is to bring before us one of the greatest statesmen and Americans of all times—William McKinley. He reached deeply into the wells of our hearts, he inspired us to a higher conception of duty, he led us through ways that were dark, into the light, he gave us the precepts and standards upon which we could plant our feet and march to victory. Dewey of Manila Bay, the idol of a continent and the hero of a world, who uttered, with characteristic Americanism, that phrase that has meant so much to us, "You may fire when you are ready Gridley." It was the victory of Manila Bay that designated the United States as an international power in the group of nations. There are many other great names which have enriched the pages of our national life, but there is one other whom I must mention, one whom many of us have known personally and one whom all of us have loved and admired. It is a name which immediately conjures up the best and the noblest in our national life, a name which is honored and respected throughout all the world—Theodore Roosevelt. Straightforward, honest, conscientious, courageous American—not afraid of the enemy or of his friends, a man whose religion was his country and whose conviction was his God. His achievement at San Juan was a foreword of the splendid achievement which was still to come. So, in every state, in every city and in every town throughout our country, are the men of the Spanish-American war who breathed deeply in 1898 the lessons of national life and who have taught to other generations the lessons which they then learned so well.

"I want your organization and the men that compose it to know that I am glad that some of your men are associated with me in the conduct of the affairs of state, and I am glad that everywhere in Ohio I have friends of the Spanish-American war who uphold with strength and unity the best traditions of your organization."

...jurors may ... er courts if Mrs. Kaber is convicted.

Her attorneys, having failed to bar them, will attempt to eliminate women jurors from the case by the exercise of peremptory challenges. If they fail, the presence of even one woman on the jury will be made a point in an appeal in event of conviction.

Today, as yesterday, "murder fans" gathered outside the courthouse and thronged the corridors to catch a glimpse of Mrs. Kaber.

ONE HURT IN OHIO CLOUDBURST

Written for the I. N. S.

YOUNGSTOWN, June 29—A near cloudburst late yesterday afternoon was the cause of considerable property damage and the injury of one man, a street car motorman, who was burned when his car was struck by lightning and his clothing ignited.

Street car service was tied up at several points, gardens and pavements washed out and basements in the business district flooded.

An odd trick of the storm was the washing out of an area of thirty square feet of asphalt paving which was deposited nearly 25 feet away, almost unbroken.

CAN PLENTY OF CHERRIES FOR PIES NEXT WINTER

Sweet white and large black cherries are usually canned unpitted; but acid cherries ordinarily are pitted before canning. Unpitted cherries present a more attractive appearance, and many like the flavor the pit gives to the product. The following directions for canning this delicious fruit are given by the United States Department of Agriculture:

If cherries are to be canned whole, plunge them for 20 to 30 seconds in hot water. This prevents splitting. A sirup for sweet cherries may be made of 3 1-2 pounds of sugar to 4 quarts of water. Pack cherries, whether pitted or unpitted, to within one half inch of top in jars which have been boiled 15 minutes. Fill jar with sirup and put on rubber, which has been for 15 minutes in a solution made from 1 tablespoon of soda and 1 quart of boiling water. Remove top from water in which it boiled for 10 minutes and place on jar. Partially seal jar. (With glass top can, ... one bail in place. With screw ... jar, screw half way on.)

If steam-pressure cooker is used, place jars in cooker and process quart jars 25 minutes. When a commercial hot-water bath canner or a home-made one is used, place the jars (after partially sealing) in the canner on a false bottom. Water should cover the jars. ... not start counting time until ... water is boiling. Process quart ... for 20 minutes. When process is finished, remove jars, complete sealing, test for leaks, and store ... cool, dry place. If the jar leaks, remove rubber and put on new ... one and process 15 minutes ...

TO TEST SCIONS FROM OLD INDIAN PEAR TREE

Seeking to test old varieties of pears, Paul Thayer, assistant horticulturist at the Ohio Experiment Station, has secured scions from ... old pear tree near Sandusky, ... County, said to be more than 1... years old.

The tree, to which early settlers came a long distance on horseback to get fruit, has withstood the blight so fatal to many pear trees. It evidently bore fruit during Indian days and may be a remnant of Indian orchards confiscated ... General Wayne in 1794.

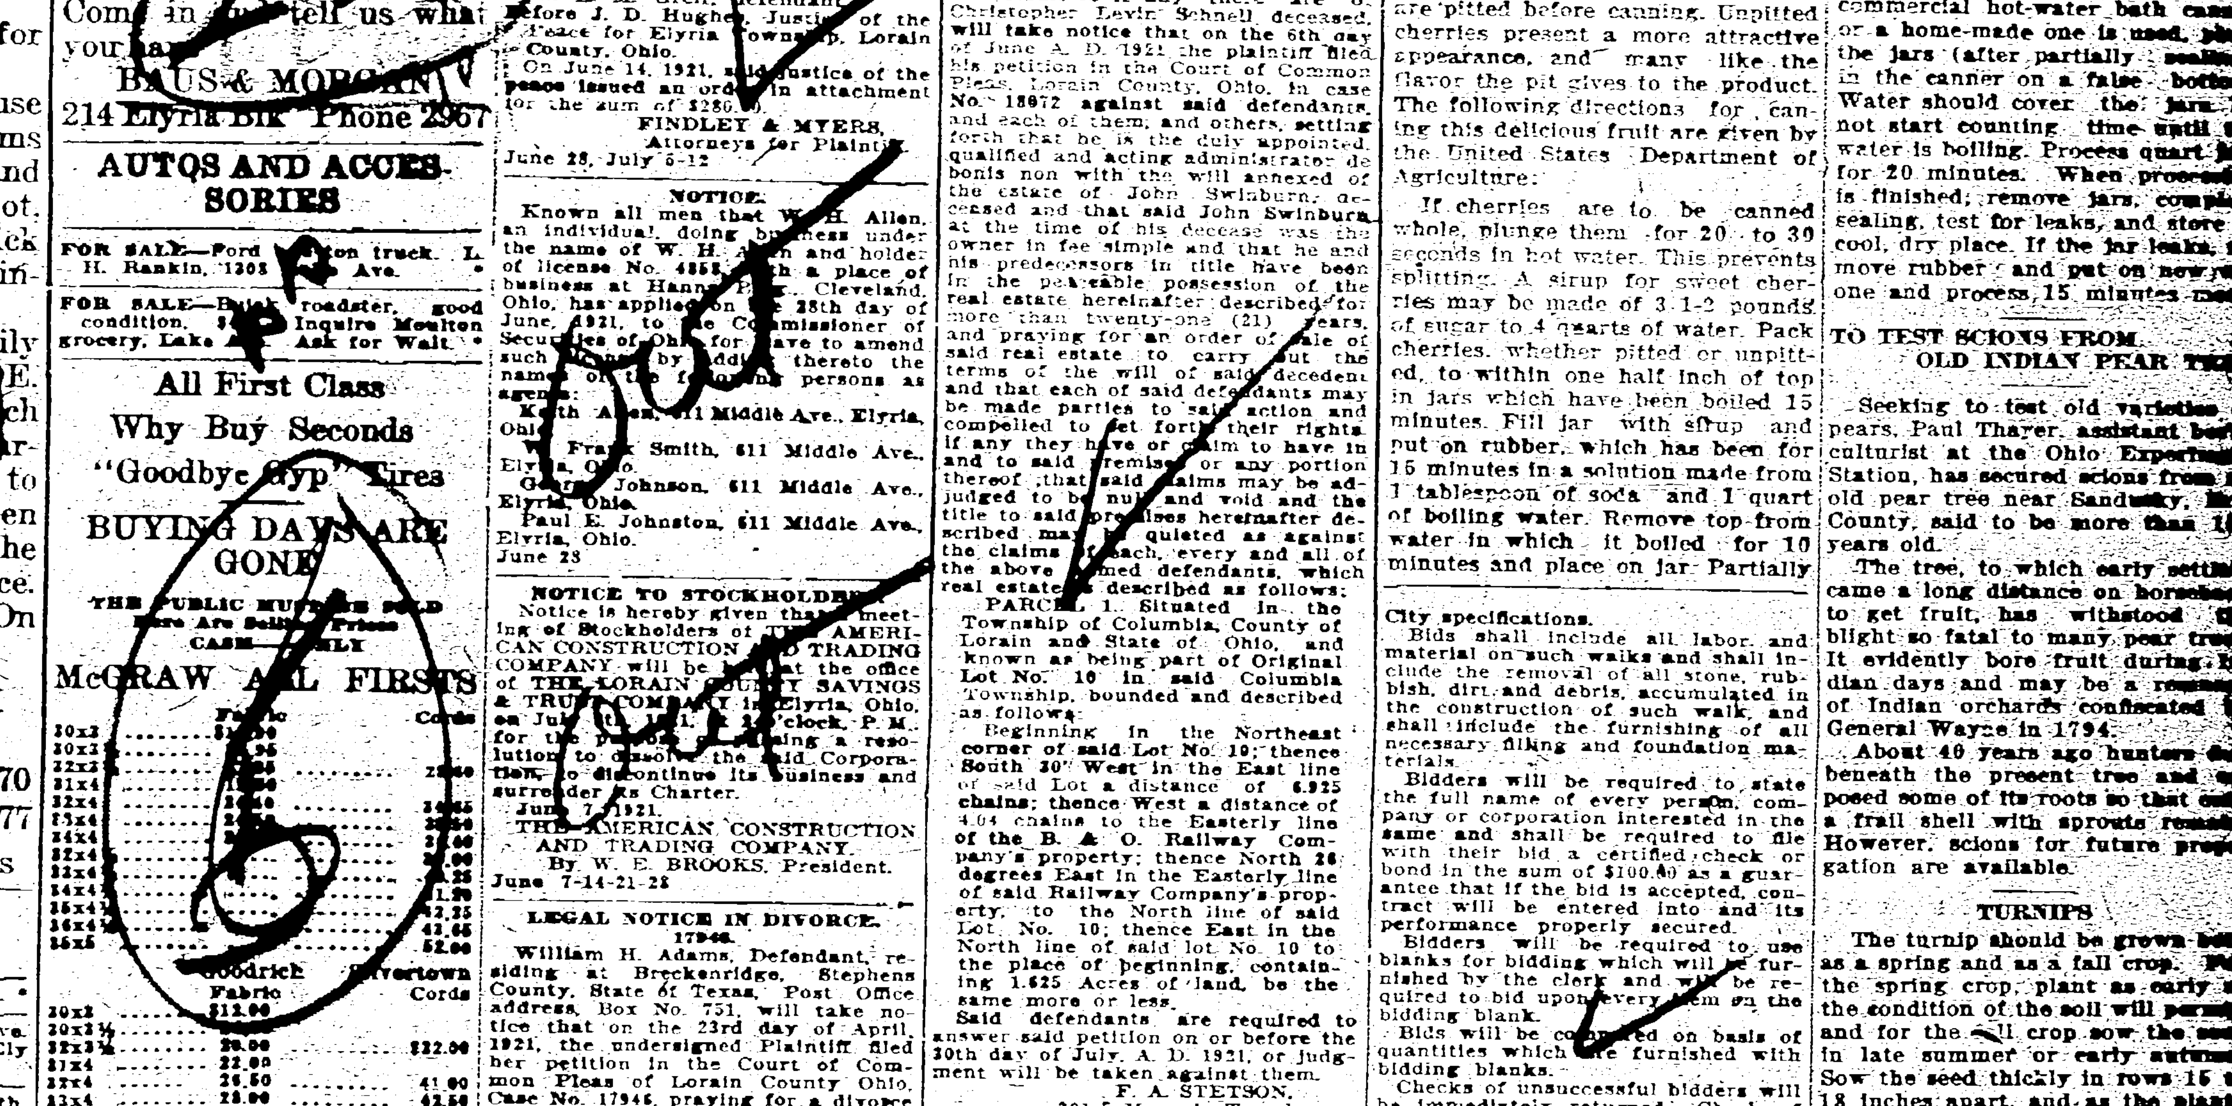

About 40 years ago hunters ... beneath the present tree and ex...posed some of its roots so that ... a frail shell with sprouts remains. However, scions for future propagation are available.

TURNIPS

The turnip should be grown both as a spring and as a fall crop. For the spring crop, plant as early as the condition of the soil will permit and for the fall crop sow the seed in late summer or early autumn. Sow the seed thickly in rows 15 to 18 inches apart, and as the plants reach a height of 4 to 5 inches begin thinning, using the young plants for greens. For good roots thin the plants to about 3 inches apart in the row. Cultivate turnips the same as carrots and parsnips. Turnips may be left in the ground until needed for the table, pulled and stored in a cellar, or buried in banks or pits.

The Purple Top is the most common variety of rutabaga.

DAILY EDITORIAL DIGEST

(Title Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
Edited by the Consolidated Press Association
Commercial Bank Building, Washington, D. C.

A Mixture

In his Cincinnati speech Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, present a curious admixture of good and bad logic which awakens contradictory feelings in those who would agree with the veteran labor leader, but who must separate the wheat from the chaff. It is bad in that it conveys a veiled threat in the warning that "the workers will not tolerate any movement that undertakes to drive them back so again they are typified as the man with the hoe." It is good when it pleads that "high wages, the best possible wages, the best possible hours and working conditions are the greatest incentive to industrial, commercial and financial prosperity."

Nothing should be said or done at this period to foment class hatred. No person in a position of leadership is justified in spreading the impression that capital is reaching out for the threat of labor in an endeavor to choke it into submission. There is nothing in the present situation which suggests such an attitude. The process of industrial readjustment now going on calls for a reduction in the cost of production, and since labor constitutes the greatest factor in the production of almost every commodity it must of necessity bear its share. This is necessary through the working of immutable economic laws, and it should be viewed by capital and labor in a sane and reasonable light, free from prejudice.

On the other hand, as Mr. Gompers says, wages should be maintained at the highest possible levels, with fair hours and good working conditions, in order that the best results may be obtained. Undoubtedly in this process of wage readjustment there are some unprincipled employers who would take advantage of the situation to cut the pay of their employes far below the point necessary in order to reap greater profits. Instances of this kind must be prevented, and the surest way to prevent them is to submit to arbitration. It is a poor cause which fears the verdict of unprejudiced and disinterested judges. Labor will be called upon to make some sacrifices just as every other class of the population must make, but it has nothing to fear from the future. If it keeps its head and shows a proper degree of consideration, it will get full justice from its fellow citizens.—Washington Post (Ind.)

Mr. Gompers Reports

It is unnecessary for Mr. Gompers to assure his audience, as he did at Cincinnati, that the "American labor movement is the only labor movement of any country on the globe where organized workers have not their hand on the throat of their government." But it is also true that in no other country does governing institutions have as firm a clutch on the throat of the workers. The Kansas Industrial act and the various anti-syndicalist acts are evidence of this. The same dispatches that carried the above statement also carried the news that Governor Cox of Massachusetts had signed a bill permitting legal suits against the unions, although there was a general protest lodged by the latter against the bill.

Not only is it true that the organized workers do not have their hand at the throat of the government, but in spite of nearly 20 years of "rewarding friends and punishing enemies" unions have less influence in shaping legislation than they did in the decade following 1830. They have less influence in this respect than any other "labor movement of any country on the globe." It is just as well when surveying the situation that all the facts should be presented instead of a few.

One thing conceded in this address is that the capitalist profiteers and 100 percenters "have the upper hand now," but the speaker warned the enemy that the "pendulum does not always swing one way." Just why these sinister forces should have the upper hand after three years of intimate association with Mr. Gompers in their joint work of making us all safe for "democracy" the speaker does not say. But there is the confession that they "have the upper hand now." It is a pathetic admission of lack of power that is far from inspiring. One might glory in a note of defiance even if the organization were weak if the leadership had never maneuvered the organization into support of a reactionary enemy. But having supported the enemy and then being kicked because of it is far from inspiring. It is humiliating. However, the organized masses under this leadership pay the bills, which probably enables this leadership to endure the situation with true Christian resignation.—New York Call (Soc.)

Honor Among Thieves

Here's a novel complaint. It is alleged to come from the "Tramways Pickpockets' Association of Genoa," and it is directed to the Chief of Police. The thieves feel outraged because their victims have the "dishonest habit" of reporting their losses as greater than they really are. When the loot is divided, those who share it accuse the man who brought it in of "holding out" on the others. "See," they cry; "the police report says [?] got 2500 lire. You've only turned in fifty lire. Where's the rest?" And that makes trouble in the ancient and "honorable" fraternity. The moral, as the peculators remind the public is that "alleged honest people should be more delicate."

Evidently the public of Genoa has no heart for poor men who have undertaken to equalize the distribution of property, raising the indigent and reducing the affluent to a democratic fiscal level. Of what use is it to become an expert in thievery if one's sleight-of-hand and science are to be set at nought by those who bear false witness as to the proceeds?—Philadelphia Public Ledger (Ind.)

EATON

EATON—The beautifully decorated home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dair, of Fields, was the scene of a pretty wedding Thursday evening, June 23rd, when Ima Jane, their oldest daughter, became the bride of Mr. Lee Walker, of Columbia Station, O.

Just seventy-two years before the bride's grandparents, Edward and Jane Hill, were married in England and at once set sail for their new home in America. Wishing to commemorate this anniversary Ima chose it as her own wedding day.

As the clock struck the hour of seven, Mrs. Grady very sweetly sang "Oh Promise Me," at the close of which Mrs. Ethel Cole began playing the bridal chorus from Lohengrin when the bridal party marched to an archway prettily adorned with ferns and flowers for the occasion, and in the presence of about fifty relatives and friends Mr. Grady, pastor of the Baptist church at Columbia Station, very impressively read a beautiful Episcopal wedding ceremony, uniting the worthy couple in the sacred bonds of matrimony.

The bride, carrying a bouquet of roses and carnations and the very prayer book her grandmother Hill carried, when she was married, was a charming bride in a white gown of georgette crepe and lace, trimmed with pearls.

The bride was attended by her youngest sister, Lolita, who, dressed in yellow organdie and carrying sweet peas, made a pretty bridesmaid. The groom was attended by his brother, Roy. Helen and Elaine Cole, little cousins of the bride, dressed in white with arms filled with daises, acted as flower girls. From a lovely rope of sweet peas which the children carried was suspended the wedding ring.

The wedding gifts were both useful and beautiful.

The out-of-town guests were from Los Angeles, California, Detroit, Mich., and Cleveland, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker are prominent young people and have the sincere best wishes of a large circle of friends as they begin their married life in their new home at Columbia Station, O.

Some Aspects of Utility Regulation

By E. I. LEWIS
Member Interstate Commerce Commission

"Why Are Utility Rates Failing to Fall Readily and Comparably With Commodity Prices?"

"One reason forgotten by the public that will generally be reasonable when it stops to think, lies in the fact that utility rates as a whole did not advance comparable to commodity prices. ... truthfully say that utility rates have advanced very little ... pre-war levels." (Our present lighting rates are over ... per cent lower than the lighting rates in Elyria prior ... 1912, when the present company took over the opera... the electric properties.)

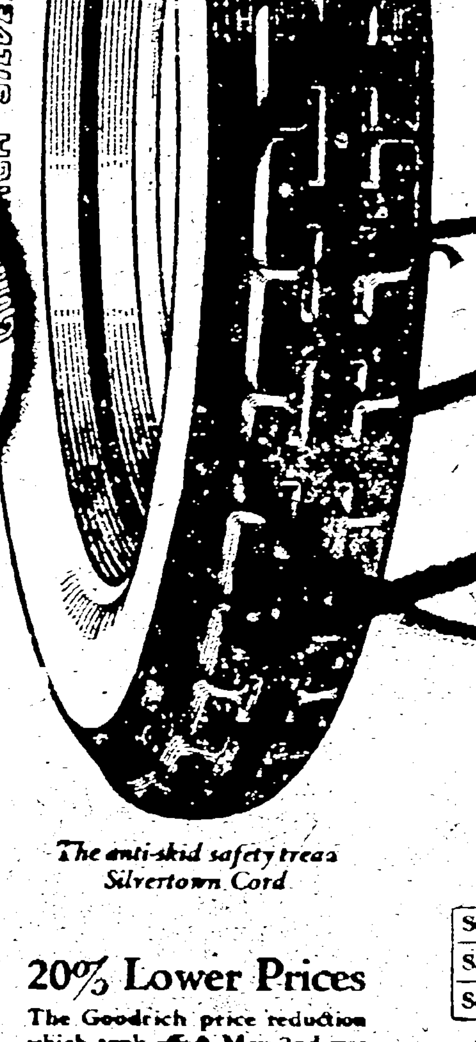

"... may truthfully say that utility ... have advanced very little from pre-war levels. ... everyone else, corporation, farmer, laborer, wh... retailer, property owner—sailed away on the ... period ... the public utilities and common ca... alone were anchored to Mother Earth by regulation ... no time over generous, and very close to the point of ...ation."

"They were not permitted to enjoy earnings running into the hundreds of percent of war time profits. ... not even fifty or twenty-five per cent—and there is ... a regulator who has not heard a war profiteering community protesting with all the soul that could be mustered, against the public utilities which ... are their very life, being given an earning of ... even per cent."

"... have seen come before me, ... annually in the fabrication of flour, wares, commodities and ... production of coal, stone and materials, protesting against relief to the seat of their operating energy. The in...tice of it seared your very soul."
